even more touching story is woman whose boyfriend was dying. She was by his bedside when he said something in a weak voice, "There's something I must confess". "What", she said, "There's nothing in confide. Everything is alright." "No, I must die in peace" he said, "I had sex with your sister, your best friend and your co-worker." "I know" she whispered. "That's why I poisoned you... sayonara!"

Normally, we don't expect too much fidelity from hospital activity, however here are a list of actual chart entries, judge for yourself.

- 1) The patient refused autopsy.
- 2) The patient has no previous history of suicides.
- 3) Patient left white blood cells at another hospital.
- 4) She has no rigors or chalking chills, but her husband states she was very hot in bed last night.
- 5) Patient has chest pains if she lies on her left side for over a year.
- 6) On the second day the knee was better and on the third day it disappeared.
- 7) The patient has been depressed since she began seeing me in 1993.
- 8) Discharge status: Alive but without permission.
- 9) Healthy appearing decrepit 69-year-old male, mentally alert but forgetful.
- 10) She is numb from her toes down.
- 11) While in the ER, she was examined, X-rayed and sent home.
- 12) Patient was alert and unresponsive.
- 13) Rectal examination revealed a normal sized thyroid. (OMG! That is some examination.)
- 14) Patient has two teenage children, but no other abscond!

My advice to the East End Volleyball community stay clear of these medical facilities, unless you're a crazy person and you're taking the psychopath to the front door.

Attorneys and doctors are always battling it out in court, sometimes illustrating the stupidity of both professions. Below is an exchange between a doctor and a lawyer:

ATTORNEY: Doctor, before you performed the autopsy, did you check for a pulse?

WITNESS: No

ATTORNEY: Did you check for blood pressure?

WITNESS: No

ATTORNEY: Did you check for breathing?

WITNESS: No

ATTORNEY: So, then it is possible that the patient was alive when you began the autopsy?

WITNESS: No

ATTORNEY: How can you be sure, Doctor?

WITNESS: Because the brain was sitting on my desk in a jar

ATTORNEY: I see, but could the patient still have been alive, nevertheless?

WITNESS: Yes, it is possible that he could have been alive and practicing law just like your examination.

See you at the beach!
